A Forestry Career Offers Opportunities to Young Men

An industrial forester gives practical pointers on woodland management to a group of high school students.

Meeting the wood requirements of a modern day nation takes plenty of planning and technical "know how." Among the men providing these necessary talents are foresters.

Practically an unknown profession in the United States half a century ago, forestry today offers a promising and challenging field for young men seeking careers with a future.

Time was when about the only employment available to foresters and this for only a few, was in federal or state conservation organizations. This is no longer true. America's wood-using industries have taken increasing responsibility for conservation and wise woodland management. As a result, more than 5,000 foresters are employed by America's forest industries. Another 1,200 foresters are working as consultants or as managers of non-industrial woodlands.

Industrial foresters work for lumber companies, pulp and paper manufacturers, plywood and veneer mills, wood preserving companies, railroads, mining companies and other industrial woodland owners. While modern day forest industries produce timber crops for today's markets they also grow trees for tomorrow.

Forester Has Many Jobs

The industrial forester's assignments range all the way from administrative planning to the operation of tree nurseries and planting programs. Foresters plan and supervise logging; survey and build access roads; info forest areas; lay out and direct forest protection and fire fighting systems; cruise and map timberland; direct campaigns against tree-killing insects and diseases; and carry out studies designed to increase timber growth.

Where To Get Information

In addition to all these jobs on company woodlands, many industrial foresters have full-time or part-time jobs helping small woodland owners with tree growing and management problems. All over the United States industrial foresters are encouraging their timberland owning neighbors to grow trees as a cash crop and manage their woodlands so they can qualify for membership in the industry-sponsored American Tree Farm System.

Educators advise high school students interested in a forestry career to study mathematics, physics, chemistry and biology. Listings of forestry schools in your state or area can be obtained from the nearest wood-using industry.

A Message Regarding Your HILL-BURTON HOSPITAL

We, the elected officials of Hancock County, are offering our people a much needed hospital. It will cost the people a bond issue of $175,000. The Federal government will give us $300,000.

To retire this bond issue of $175,000 will require 3 additional mills. For example if your assessment is $500, it will cost you $1.50 taxes a year to pay for a new 30 bed Hill-Burton hospital. The operation of this hospital will not cost you any additional taxes. We will have facilities for the colored people in the Hill-Burton hospital as have our neighboring cities of Gulfport, Wiggins and Picayune.

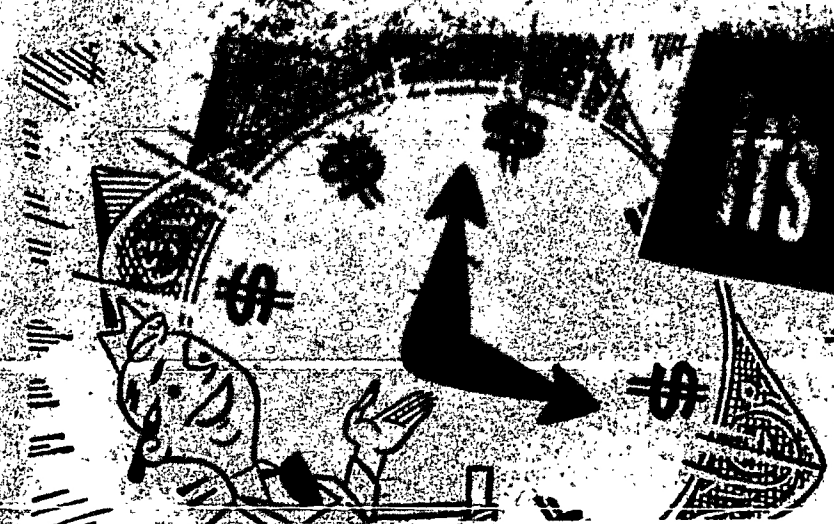

Don't be misled by wild rumors. We are offering you a new 30 bed Hill-Burton hospital for $175,000. We consider this a golden opportunity which many counties in our state are trying to get.

If the Hill-Burton hospital is defeated, and at a later date we decide to build a County hospital of the same size, it will cost you three times as much, or $450,000 which will require about 9 additional mills. For example: if your assessment is $500, your tax increase will be $4.50 per year to pay for a new 30 bed County hospital. The colored people will have facilities in a County hospital just as they will in the Hill-Burton.

We feel very fortunate in having the opportunity to offer you a $450,000 hospital which will only cost you $175,000. On September 28, we ask you to go to the polls to vote FOR a Hill-Burton hospital.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

BY HOWARD F. NEWBORN
Hancock County Agent

SHEEP

A build-up of stomach worms has occurred this year due to a mild wet winter and spring. The tall fescue grass has helped with the build up.

The fineness of the material in phenothiazine is known to influence its effectiveness. If your sheep are on good grazing and still not doing well, it may pay you to use another manufacturer's material and drench an extra time. Some producers find it pays to drench carry-over lambs every 30 days.

If your lambs are lightweight it might pay you to use some grain during the summer.

If your lambs have not been shorn, this should be done as soon as possible and possibly again 60 to 75 days before marketing.

Are you in the market for some western lambs for grazing? These lambs will likely be at higher weights than we like but they will shear out more wool, and are likely to reach market weights earlier or weight more at market time.

Whether lambs will probably be heavier than ewe lambs this fall and unless you need replacement ewes, will be a better buy. If you do need western replacement ewes probably the best way is to buy them as lambs this fall. They will usually do a better job breeding and cost less money than those bought in the spring.

If you can provide grazing, it might be profitable to buy mixed lambs, which should run approximately half ewes and half wethers. Sell off the wether end and keep the ewes for replacements.

POULTRY

Some timely advice to poultry producers includes: Get those repairs and remodeling jobs underway; don't wait. Clean up. Continue to cull out non-layers as you find them.

Be on the look out for "blue comb" which is a hot weather disease and at this time of year, may show up at any time. Be

American Legion AUXILIARY NOTES

Mr. Albert Biehl, Jr., President, presided at the September regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Rehabilitation of Veterans and Child Welfare, are two of the Auxiliary's programs that will be particularly stressed this year, Mrs. Biehl announced.

Twenty-five veterans from the Gulfport Veterans Hospital will be entertained by the Auxiliary this month.

Plans were begun for the Auxiliary's Annual Harvest Ball to be held October 5th, at the Legion Home.

Dues for the year 1957-1958 are being collected now, stated Mrs. John Weathers, chairman of Membership.

The remaining awards from the State Convention were presented by Mrs. Gordon Romanoff Junior Past President. A check for $10 was presented to the unit for their Poppy Window Display picture. A check for $10.00 was awarded to Mrs. Gilbert Gayant for her essay on Honduras and a check for $5.00 awarded to Junior Member, Miss Cora Mae Vetter for her essay on Honduras in the Junior Division. The juniors of the auxiliary were presented a check for $10.00 for making Pan American costumes for the two dolls entered in the doll contests. Little Miss Helen Biehl was awarded a $5.00 check for her winning Poppy Poster. All these awards were won in the State contests.

The unit is handling the sale of Christmas cards again this year with Mrs. Gordon Romanoff as chairman of this project.

Mrs. John Weathers, chairman of the Summer Library Story Hours sponsored by the Auxiliary, gave a detailed report to the unit.

The meeting closed with a prayer for Peace given by the Chaplain, Mrs. Rene Bermond.

An average of eight wells has been drilled for each million dollars of petroleum production income during the past year.

STATE POPULATION PREDICTIONS MADE

Mississippi's population will be 2,303,000 in 1960 and 2,383,000 in 1965, according to projected population estimates made by the Federal Bureau of Census. The state's population as recorded for the 1950 census was 2,178,814. Thus the census bureau's figures indicate a continuing steady population growth for the Magnolia State. The projections are based upon use of a "ratio" method which involves comparison of the state's population with those of the country as a whole for the period between 1940 and 1950. This ratio is then applied to the projected population figure for the United States for any given year thereby arriving at the projected population figure for each individual state.

WAVELAND WANDERINGS

by GEORGETTE B. HALL

Pretty, young "Aggie Bourgeois, daughter of Mr. Sidney Bourgeois, Waveland, was selected "Poppy Queen" and represented the Junior Auxiliary of the American Legion at a large gathering Sunday night when she was crowned. "Aggie" sold more poppies than anyone else during the recent poppy drive for veterans, and this young lady was honored at the American Legion Home in Bay St. Louis before a large crowd of Legionnaires, their families, guests and friends. The crown bearer was little Charlotte Piazza, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Piazza. Both girls wore queenly dresses of white net, beautifully designed by Miss Mary Margaret Turcotte. Queen "Aggie" carried a sceptre of poppies and a gold crown sparkled on her head. There were about fourteen maids in the court. Many residents of Waveland attended the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Georgi have returned from a motor trip to Miami, Florida. From Miami they flew to Cuba, but their trip was interrupted due to Hurricane Ruth. They had a rainy trip home through a letter to the Georgia friends of the J. J. Vollrath who formerly lived in Waveland on Sears Avenue. They learned that the Vollraths are now residing in Los Angeles, California, where they have purchased a home and have their own swimming pool.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rains, who recently purchased the Otto Hirsche home on Third Street in Waveland Heights, have as their guest Mr. Rains' mother from Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Baker of New Orleans have purchased the home at 740 Beach Boulevard next to Hava Lane. This column welcomes the Bakers who will be permanent residents to Waveland.

Mrs. J. T. Wolfe is in Louisville, Ky., with her sister, Mrs. A. H. Horgan. She was called to Louisville because of the serious illness of her brother-in-law, Mr. R. H. Horgan.

Mrs. Paul Nott is hospitalized in Foundation Hospital in New Orleans. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Friends of Mrs. Ruth Mallow hope she will soon be well again. She is at home this week with a severe cold.

Watch for the time and place next week of a rummage sale which will be sponsored by the Ladies of the Waveland Methodist Church. The big sale promises some real bargains, both in summer and winter clothing. Everyone will be welcome to attend. There will be plenty of pretty dresses, blouses, skirts and other articles of clothing for little girls and teenagers. We'll announce the time and place next week.

Farmers spend as much for petroleum products as for farm machinery—almost two million dollars a year.

Vic Fouchet was telling us of some 3 pound croakers he caught recently. Pretty big croakers if you ask me. Would liked to have seen 'em Vic!

Dove hunting has been a little better the past week. Cooler weather will help this sport also.

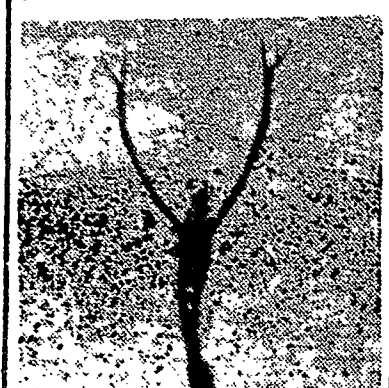

Although the golf course at the Isles has been rather wet, some good matches have been played. A hot one Saturday afternoon was between C. C. McDonald, Sr., Jimmie McDonald, O. P. Adams and H. Rayfield. Jimmie is improving his game and should become a real golfer.

The course is well drained and should be at its best real soon.

Green trout fishing is improving right along and should be good this weekend. The water is clearing fast and tides should be just right.

WHAT IS IT?

The above photo shows something that looks like a shrimp but is not.

This creature was caught by W. H. Schulingkamp, of 124 Boardman Avenue and B. A. Loupe of Baton Rouge, while shrimp-pulling out in the front of the Bay.

The body measured about 4 inches and had long claws about 4 inches long. It resembles a shrimp but has narrow tail instead of a wide one as on a shrimp.

The only information we could gather was given by Arthur Christy who says it is a young lobster, better known in Florida as a "Florida Crawfish." It is the first we have seen and would like to get more information on same.

Mr. Schulingkamp has it preserved in alcohol "denatured." He would be glad to show it to anyone interested. It is really something to see.

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN NEW INDUSTRY COMES TO TOWN?

Have you wondered just what happens when a new industry moves into a community—into your home town? Plenty according to reports from the United States Chamber of Commerce—and it's all to the good!

First of all, the new enterprise creates jobs—not only in its own plant, but in other business enterprises as well. A study by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce shows that for every 100 jobs created by the new enterprise, 74 others come into being—a total of 174 new jobs from the establishment of that one new venture.

These 174 new jobs support 236 more people. The community increases by 112 households. There are 51 more school children, 197 more automobiles.

Four more retail establishments open. Personal income goes up $20,000. Total sales increase $200,000. More is demanded in banks where it may become the investment life blood for other new business ventures.

CIVIL AIR PATROL

citizens of the U.S. and of good moral character. The Civil Air Patrol, founded just before Pearl Harbor, now has more than 50,000 young Americans enrolled in its Cadet Program. An immediate goal of 100,000 has been set with no ceiling on the maximum number of young people who may join.

As a segment of the CAP, the Cadet Program isn't new. Even during World War II many teenagers were learning about aviation as junior members of the patrol. It was under the leadership of Major General Lucius V. Beau, USAF (Ret.) Past National Commander, that the youth program began to grow. Today under the guidance of Maj. Gen. Walter R. Agee, USAF, the Civil Air Patrol Cadet Program is rapidly moving ahead.

National Headquarters, Civil Air Patrol, at Bolling Air Force Base, D. C., has a twofold objective in the youth program of the CAP. First, to motivate young men and women to select and follow careers in aviation—either civilian or military aviation. Second, to build air-minded citizens who know how to cope with the civic problems of age dominated by the airplane.

To arrive at these objectives the CAP has developed a wide-awake program to bring aviation and youth together in communities throughout the nation. Paced by regular weekly classroom sessions in aviation subjects taught by qualified adult CAP instructors, the CAP Cadet Program is punctuated by several incentive or "reward" programs each a thrilling aviation adventure for a young man or woman who will work hard enough to achieve it.

Next week the International Cadet Exchange, The Jet Orientation course, The Summer Encampment Program, The Flight Scholarship Program.

For further information on your local CAP activities, telephone 1st Lt. M. G. (Jack) Seuzeneau, HO-7-6670 or 2nd Lt. Gertrude R. Perkins, HO-7-4378.

HARVESTING SEASON GETTING UNDER WAY

Cotton is moving to the gins. It starts in a trickle and then becomes a torrent of white gold flowing from the thousand acres of farmland. It means the harvest season is under way. And along with cotton comes soybeans, corn, rice and the marketing of cattle. Continued dry weather in much of Mississippi has caused rapid deterioration of pastures. Drought has also caused the shedding of squares and bolls from some cotton, but the general

"A Hatful Of Rain"

Opens Sun. And Mon.
At The A&G Theatre

One of the most powerful and uncompromising dramas in the long history of the Broadway stage, "A Hatful Of Rain" has been brought to the cinema screen by Twentieth Century-Fox. It will have its local premiere on Sunday and Monday, Sept. 29-30 at the Star Theatre.

Starring Eve Marie Saint, Don Murray, Anthony Franciosa and Lloyd Nolan, the film—the first to be made under the revised motion picture code allowing narcotics to be the subject matter of a movie—reunites Director Fred Zinnemann and Producer Buddy Adler who last pooled their talents on the 1955 Academy Award-winner, "From Here to Eternity."

"A Hatful Of Rain" tells the poignant, often painful tale of Johnny Pope, a young man "hooked" by the narcotics "habit," while being treated for war wounds and his relationship with his family, three decent people who are suddenly faced with the awful problem that has already confronted some 160,000 American households.

One of Hollywood's brightest young talents, Don Murray, who scored so solidly last year as the extroverted, blonde-chasing cowhand of "Bus Stop," became the blighted Johnny. Ashamed to confide in his pregnant young wife, Celia, he fights a harrowing battle for survival against the drugs and the men that sell them, the "pushers" who prey, like vultures, on his weakness.

Eve Marie Saint, an Academy Award-winner for her performance in "On The Waterfront," is Celia, a strong and vital girl, who could be Johnny's salvation. She is not a new one for the talented young actress. She was the original "Celia" in the Actors Studio production of "A Hatful Of Rain."

According to the Hollywood grapevine, the year's outstanding newcomer is sure to be an Anthony Franciosa, who plays "Polo," Johnny's well-intended brother, a part he created on the New York stage. Lloyd Nolan, winner of both the Donaldson and the New York Critics awards for his portrayal of the demented "Captain Queeg" in "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial," is Pop Pope, who comes home to find one of his sons is a dope addict.

A new menace is introduced to the screen in the person of Henry Silva, who plays a dope peddler with the strange name of "Mother." He is a man without pity or passion, a living symbol of the horror that descends on a family trapped by dope addiction.

International Letter Writing Week October 6 - 12

International Letter Writing Week will be celebrated in Bay St. Louis, Miss., during the week October 6 to 12. Acting Postmaster Abby J. Becker announced today.

Commenting on the establishment of International Letter Writing Week, Mr. Becker pointed out that each year since 1938 the Post Office Department has joined in the observance of National Letter Writing Week—an annual event celebrated to emphasize the meaning and value of letter writing as a symbol of "American freedom."

As a result of its success, Acting Postmaster Becker stated, International Letter Writing Week will be conducted on an international basis this year for the first time. International Letter Writing Week is based on the idea that written communications between people in all countries of the world will contribute toward the building of a lasting peace. "I am sure we are all aware that a personal letter is, next to an actual visit, the most intimate means each of us has to communicate with our fellow human beings. Letters between peoples of different nations are a sure method of establishing friendly relationships and understanding. The problems of freedom loving peoples will be more quickly solved if they are better understood."

"I urge all citizens of Bay St. Louis to join in this first celebration of International Letter Writing Week and at the same time write that overdue letter to friends and relatives in America."

"Gunfight Of The O. K. Corral"

At Hi-Way Theatre Sunday

Hi-Way Theatre Sunday. "Gunfight Of The O. K. Corral" is one of the most thrilling action pictures ever made. It is an action drama, great distinction, powerful, suspenseful, authentic, beautifully acted, brilliantly written and directed and produced on an epic scale.

The complex saga of a strange alliance—between Lancaster, the marshal who lives only to see his territory of a gang that has killed his brother, and Douglas, a law-abiding, gunslinging gambler who risks death every turn of a card—the VistaVision film builds its tension through the inevitability of its juggernaut movement toward the savage gun battle that provides the climax.

There are many skirmishes along the way—saloon brawls, knife fights, house-to-house stalkings, as the friendship between the oddly-matched partners is cemented—but the story moves inexorably toward the pitched battle that is the final explosion. Staged with a realism that makes you want to duck for cover, the fight at the O. K. Corral, as filmed, is Lancaster and Douglas face the gang's massed guns and last-ditch desperation.

Along with Lancaster and Douglas' smashing performances, Rhonda Fleming, Jo Van Fleet, John Ireland and Lyle Bettger provide finely-etched portraits of great quality. As punctuation throughout the Technicolor picture, Frankie Laine hauntingly sings a terrific title song. John Hursey directed from a Leon Uris screenplay.

continues to get bigger and better each year—from the college level to first grade. The next five years will see the expenditure of some $100 million in state and local funds under a statewide school improvement program which has revolutionized the state's public school set-up. Another point is that every professional school in the state's college system is accredited by its respective accrediting agencies. Not every state in the union can make that statement. Quality of Mississippi colleges is indicated, too, by the fact that 15 per cent of their enrollment comes from outside the state.
